BACK ON ITS PERCH. The mythological Piasa Bird again gazes over the Mississippi River north of Alton at Norman's Landing. The huge bird is believed to have been originally painted on the cliffs by local Indians hundreds of years ago and has been repainted many times since. Instead of repainting the bird on the cliff wall itself, this new, colorful rendition has been painted on sheet metal and fastened to the cliff. The new Piasa Bird is designed to last much longer than previous cliff paintings. (Press-Record Photo by Patrick Foley)

Showers bring relief from deadly heat spell

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record
Quad-Cityans awakened this morning to the welcome relief of cooler temperatures—71 degrees at 7 a.m. today—after five consecutive days when the mercury reached over 100 degrees and 16 consecutive days of temperatures exceeding 90.

Thunderstorms cooled the area late Sunday night and plans were being made this morning to discontinue service at the Salvation Army Heat Relief Center, where a total of 108 persons stayed overnight over the past four days and many more sought relief there during the daylight hours.

The blistering temperatures of the past few days have been responsible for an estimated 48 deaths in the bi-state area, with 15 occurring in the Madison-St. Clair counties area and 33 in St. Louis and St. Louis County. Thirty-one heat-related deaths have been reported throughout Illinois.

Although none of the deaths reported during the weekend in the Quad-Cities was directly attributed to the heat, the excessively high temperatures may have been a contributing factor, combined with other elements, in the deaths of several elderly residents of the Quad-Cities.

The slightly cooler trend is expected to continue, with a high around 90 degrees and a 30 percent chance of showers forecast for today. Tonight, it should be partly cloudy, with the low in the upper 60s, the U.S. Weather Service said.

Temperatures are expected to remain near the 90-degree mark during the day this week and the Salvation Army cooling center will be reactivated if it is needed, Maxine Rutter, coordinator, said today.

A total of 39 persons stayed at the center Saturday night and 50 last night. Twenty-two were overnight guests on Friday and 17 remained on Thursday night.

Most residents using the cooling shelter were young couples with infants and young children, Mrs. Rutter said. The oldest overnighter was a woman in her early 60s, she noted.

One couple arrived at the center Friday with a baby covered with heat rash. "We sponged the baby down with baking soda and gave him baby aspirin and soon afterward he was playing," Mrs. Rutter said. Many youngsters brought to the shelter were suffering with rashes, she said.

Those staying at the Salvation Army center Saturday, were fed chicken and dumplings, green beans and cherry cobbler, the latter made by Mrs. Rutter.

Fried chicken, ham and hot dogs also were served, with some of the items being donated, she said.

The Salvation Army did a great job," Victor Koenig, Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency coordinator, said this morning.

Those working or playing hard during the hot, humid weather should guard against heat exhaustion and heat stroke by consuming more fluids, including water, fruit juices, lemonade and fruit-flavored sodas.

Heat exhaustion is typified by extreme weakness, profuse sweating, pale, cool and moist skin and sometimes, nausea and vomiting.

Heat stroke, a more severe condition, causes unconsciousness and very hot, red and dry skin with no sweating. Heat stroke is a medical emergency and professional help must be summoned immediately.

Medical authorities state that good fluid intake is the single most important measure in preventing heat exhaustion, noting the only way the body can cool itself in hot, humid weather is by

Third monthly profit in a row at GC Steel

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
Granite City Steel has made a profit in each of the last three months and is likely to show a slight profit for 1983, in contrast to an $80 million loss in 1982. William Swanson, GC Steel director of operations, said last week the selling price of steel remains depressed and may go lower by the fourth quarter of this year.

But the financial "break-even point" for production volume here was lowered from 160,000 tons a month in June 1982 to 118,000 in February 1983 and 104,000 in May 1983, it was related.

Manhours per ton averaged 5.9 last year, rising to 6.18 in December when volume was low. In February, with only one blast furnace in operation, this was lowered to 4.98 manhours; in May, with two furnaces producing, the figure was cut to 4.74.

Swanson said production costs per ton of steel are $53 less than last year in Granite City, and the two-year-old continuous caster set a new record last month by making 92,000 tons.

Caster utilization reduces energy costs, and its process eliminates ingots and reheating. Ingots continue to be used in the non-caster steel production.

"Our goals are quality steel and cost management," Swanson told Granite City Rotarians. "There has been some recovery from the economic recession but it has not been reflected in prices."

There is no price relief in sight.

"Our shipments are picking up, reaching 134,000 tons in June and probably 130,000 in July, but there still is

Henkhaus contempt hearing on Tuesday

MICK HENKHAUS

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record
A Madison County official accused by four local township collectors of violating a court order, will have a chance to present his side of the story at a hearing Tuesday.

County Treasurer Michael "Mick" Henkhaus last week was accused by collectors from Nameoki, Granite City, Venice and Edwardsville, of violating a 1982 court order which established guidelines for tax collection in those municipalities which have a township collector.

Henkhaus, calling the situation, "purely ridiculous," said the court order pertained only to 1981 collections and didn't apply to the current tax bills.

Last year, when tax bills were sent, the procedure established in Associate Judge Edward Ferguson's court order was followed, Henkhaus said.

A state statute concerning tax collections has been changed and the county no longer has to mail receipts to taxpayers. That change was made to save postage costs.

The collectors contend that the treasurer's office didn't include tax codes on the portion of the tax bills which is to be sent in with the payments. They say that the exclusion of the code is causing confusion among taxpayers as to which part of the bill is their receipt.

They also argue that taxpayers are confused about where to pay their first installment. The collectors contend the confusion was created because the tax bills contained an envelope addressed to the treasurer's office.

According to the court order, the county treasurer is not to accept installments prior to Sept. 1 in the four

Mayor to veto council's cuts

By GEORGEANN MCGEE
of the Press-Record

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler said he will veto Tuesday a council motion passed last week to disband the city's skeleton air pollution department.

Schuler also answered affirmatively to inquiries that he will veto two other council votes last week to eliminate $100,000 from fire and police pension funds and to trim two attorneys from the city's four-member, part-time, legal staff.

The mayor said additional vetoes may be in store for the regular 8 p.m.

Tuesday council session, but would not comment on the extent his "axing" of aldermanic budget amendments may take.

His vetoes will be aimed at some 1983-84 budget and levy cuts made by the council prior to its passage of an $8.5 million general budget. The council put on temporary hold a protested $3.9 million levy, representing a 52 percent property tax increase.

The aldermanic cuts removed $200,000 in expenses from the budget and another $260,000 from the tentative levy.

The mayor agrees with budget amendments that delete convention expenses and funds for the new industrial search committee. He disagrees with the motions that eliminate the air pollution department, cut half the city's legal staff and take away a third of the proposed fire and police pension contributions.

Schuler calls the overall dollar saving expected from the council's cutbacks too small and finds the areas where some of the cuts made as harmful. The mayor will present Tuesday his own list

Chicago pickets plan Zevallos protest

Dr. Hector Zevallos—kidnapped along with his wife, Jean, nearly a year ago by Don Benny Anderson and two other men—is to be picketed Friday by Anderson's wife, Margaret, and the Pro-Life Action League of Chicago.

About 20 to 30 demonstrators plan to visit Dr. Zevallos' Hope Clinic for Women and then St. Elizabeth's Medical Center, where he is on the medical staff and treats obstetric and gynecological patients. No abortions are performed at SEMC.

The U.S. Supreme Court has just expanded clinics' legal abortions from the first three months to the first six months of pregnancy. SEMC says its no-abortion policy is unchanged.

It adds that it cannot—and does not seek to—deny staff membership to Dr. Zevallos but is willing to talk with the Action League director, Joseph Scheidler.

Scheidler said the goal of the pickets will be removal of the local doctor from the hospital's large medical staff. Dr. Zevallos also is one of two surgeons on the Hope Clinic staff.

Scheidler commented that the July 29 activities here will not be "an attempt to resurrect the kidnapping." (The Zevalloses were freed Aug. 20, 1982, after being abducted at their home Aug. 12.)

"We oppose violence. We admire his (Anderson's) zeal but not his methods. Mrs. Anderson's presence will not mean we endorse the Army of God. (Anderson, Matthew Moore and Wayne Moore called themselves the Army of God.)

"We're going after the abortionists we know, Scheidler noted, adding, "We didn't know he was on the hospital staff until recently, and that's why we're planning this. His clinic is one of many across the country that we plan to picket."

RESCHEDULED PROGRAM ON CARE

The program on long-term institutional care for elderly citizens, previously scheduled at the Madison County Nursing Home on July 21, has been rescheduled.

The program, one of a colloquia series sponsored by the gerontology program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be Thursday, July 28 at 6:30 p.m. at the nursing home.

The speakers will be William Rainwater, administrator of the home, and Diane Wedel, head nurse in charge of health services at the facility. Participants also will tour the nursing facility.

more steelmaking capacity worldwide than the demand.

"The main increase in orders has been in the automotive field which helps the Great Lakes and Midwest divisions of National Steel Corp. and, indirectly, the local division."

Swanson, who joined National Steel 23 years ago and GC Steel in 1974, said suppliers of the local plant have been asked to "share the pain" by granting "price relief" to Granite City Steel.

Wages are lower but still well above those in such active steelmaking nations as Taiwan and Korea, it was noted.

Staffing was cut, which along with the early-1980s "depression" created a "gut-wrenching experience" for the local division, the club was told; all American steelmakers suffered "fantastic" losses in 1982.

Current employment of about 3,400 consists of 760 salaried and clerical employees, down from 900 a year and a half ago, and 2,650 hourly workers, down from more than 4,000 in the 1970s. The 2,650 figure is up 450 since sweating. Sweat is mostly water and without enough water, the body can't make enough perspiration to keep it cool, it was noted.

Heavy perspiration can cause a loss of eight to 20 cups of water a day, health officials said. Water and other fluids should be consumed throughout the day. Avoidance of coffee, tea, colas and alcoholic beverages is recommended, because these fluids cause extra fluid June's $2.20.

All at Granite City Steel have been brought into the task of lowering costs, and some of the ideas already have been implemented, Swanson said, adding, "There is hope that steel prices will stabilize; but cost efficiency will still be vital for Granite City Steel's future."

"Quality steel and cost management are going to be paramount here, forever."

Steel woes relate to the replacement of Japanese plants with new mills after the devastation of World War II; U.S. governmental pressure for unrealistically low steel prices throughout the 1960s and 1970s; and foreign nations' subsidies and policies that have enabled their steel producers to make major inroads in the U.S. and elsewhere, Swanson said.

In response to a question from the audience, he said the sale of the Weirton, W. Va., division, where he formerly worked, is nearly complete. Employees are buying the plant, and six of the new entity's ten board members have been chosen.

"We operated at Granite City with only one furnace in use for more than a year, using about 40 percent of our capacity," the speaker recalled. "Due to the low steel prices, our fixed costs were too high and our break-even point of 180,000 tons a month exceeded our capacity of 150,000 to 155,000."

"Our $65 million cost reduction plan was a challenge. But so far, although the prices and volume are $3 million below the target, we are $13 million ahead of the plan—$13 million better off than projected."

Praising the contributions of all personnel, Swanson said GC Steel's small profits in the last three months have approximately offset losses earlier in 1983, giving hopes of a net profit for the year as the nation's economic recovery gains momentum.

Warren Decatur introduced the speaker. President Willi Seim recognized Bill Terrell as the winner of the Rotary club's successful membership expansion drive this spring and summer.

loss from the kidneys, they advise.

Salt supplementation is rarely necessary, as the average American salt intake is from six to 10 grams daily.

In a day of heavy perspiration, a person may lose four to eight grams of salt. Meals should include light, more easily digested foods.

The outdoor activities of small children should be curtailed during the heat spell and adults are being advised to stay-cooler by wearing loose-fitting and light-colored clothing.

Area residents are being asked to check on neighbors, especially those who are elderly or live alone.

Pets also suffer from the extreme heat and those kept outdoors should be moved to shade areas and their water supplies replenished at frequent intervals.

Townships to debate I-255 merits

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Two local township boards tonight will debate the proposed final link of Interstate 255 and it is possible the trustees will vote on resolutions concerning the highway.

Both Nameoki and Chouteau townships will discuss I-255 tonight and the impact it will have on both townships. The meetings are scheduled for 7 p.m. at the respective town halls.

Nameoki will hear debate from proponents and opponents and Trustees Helen Hawkins is expected to make a plea to the board to review potential drainage problems that she believes could be caused by I-255.

Mrs. Hawkins appealed to the Metro-East Sanitary Board Friday, asking the commissioners to look at serious flooding problems in the American Bottoms, where the proposed final link is to be built.

She told the commissioners that runoff of surface water from the highway would cause the ground water level to swell, forcing more flooding in homes located in the American Bottoms.

The Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) has been unresponsive, making "people feel that they can't be heard," she said.

Walter "Shang" Greathouse, president of MESD, and the commissioners carefully listened to Mrs. Hawkins and showed interest in her arguments.

Greathouse said he would consider what she had to say, but warned that MESD probably has no jurisdiction to override any decision made by IDOT.

While the MESD issues drainage permits, the district board makes recommendations only, and construction of the highway could take place in the bottom regardless of the commissioner's advice, Greathouse said.

About a mile and a half of the land to be used for I-255 belongs to the MESD, but Greathouse said IDOT has not contacted the district for a recommendation.

Mrs. Hawkins' main request was for the board to push for a drainage system to go along with the highway construction. She stressed that she is not necessarily against the proposed final link that would stretch from I-55 to I-270, but said she wants to see proper safeguards taken against drainage problems.

Considering that the appropriations for the highway already total $90 million, she said she believes additional funds could be obtained for a drainage system.

"If they can get $90 million for a highway that most people don't want, then they can get more for a drainage system," Mrs. Hawkins said.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs said he has not formed an opinion about I-255 and, instead, will wait to hear both sides of the debate. Representatives from the Save American Bottoms Essential Resources (SABER), an opposition group, and members of the Southwestern Building Trades Association, a group in favor of the final link, are expected to make presentations at the Nameoki meeting tonight.

Briggs said the trustees probably will take a vote and go on record with their opinion after hearing both sides of the issue, but he said he is not certain a resolution will be adopted one way or the other.

Walter "Dick" Sparks, Chouteau Township Supervisor, has decided to ask the board to consider a resolution opposing I-255. "In my opinion, we don't need another highway. I'm concerned that they fix the other roads," he said.

MORE PRIZE WINNERS IN DRUG CONTESTS

In the Madison County Drug Essay-Poster Contest, judges lumped the Granite City, Troy and Highland winners into one category, which was not listed with the original article on the contest.

Winners in that category in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, some of which are from Granite City, are: Janet Ebmeyer, first place; Keri Nussbaum, second place; and Alan McCleary, Mark Kate, Kipp Dimig and Jason Karbarski, all third place.

Richard Reinhardt, doctor of chiropractic, will host a show on WGNV radio Tuesday, July 26, and Tuesday, Aug. 2, from 7:05 to 7:45 p.m. Topic of the shows will be chiropractic awareness, to help people understand what chiropractic is.

of austerity measures he estimates will result in a reduced budget and levy.

He gave, as an example, $1 million budgeted for sewer repairs, of which he estimates a fourth can be removed as an expense from this year's budget. He said the delay would be possible due to the length of time needed to make the repairs and because of an expected $200,000 income tax windfall from the state.

Sixth Ward Alderman Stephen Salich made a motion last week to temporarily reduce sewer repair contributions, but later withdrew his motion when he became concerned the work might be affected.

Schuler cited the city's major sewer repair project as one of two reasons he wants the air pollution department reinstated. He said the only remaining full-time air monitor employee is needed to assist the engineering department with preliminary sewer repair work.

The mayor also said by leaving air pollution funds in the budget, a framework is left to someday restore the department to its prior four-staff strength, reduced by three-fourths two years ago.

Schuler acknowledged that the city's sole "air" pollution employee, Gary Brooks, currently "devotes most of his time to engineering" duties. Brooks estimates that 75 to 90 percent of his work day is spent attending to engineering office and field tasks.

Third Ward Alderman Carl Kittel, a former member of the air pollution committee, was the only alderman to vote against the elimination of the air pollution department, but said he would oppose the mayor's attempt to revive the department, if it is intended only as a way to spread out engineering expenses.

Kittel claims the city's air pollution activities have deteriorated, due to both financial problems and purposeful administrative neglect. He said numerous requests by him to First Alderman Casmer Skubish, air pollution chairman, to hold air pollution committee meetings have been ignored.

The committee has not met in more than a year. In the past, Skubish has cited Schuler's failure to appoint members to the air pollution board as the reason his committee has not held a session. Schuler said his lack of action reflects the council's funding attitude towards the air monitoring department.

Kittel said he removed himself from the air pollution committee earlier this year, because "it really wasn't doing anything."

The alderman, however, said he voted to retain the committee last week to guard against local air pollution ordinances from being dropped. He also said he was acting to save a department he views as a potentially valuable tool to keep residents informed about air pollution situations.

Without someone from the city monitoring the skies, Kittel said, there is no motivation for industries not to become intermittent polluters, that would be difficult for out-of-town Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) employees to detect.

(The IEPA air quality report has consistently rated Granite City as having the highest air particle pollution in the state. The city also has been rated as having the highest lead pollution reading in the state's history.)

townships. The first payment by taxpayers in those townships is to be made to the tax collectors.

Further, the collectors argue that the county did not include names and addresses of the township collectors with the tax bills. Because of that, taxpayers are uncertain who to pay.

Nameoki Township Tax Collector Norman Hall said last week that the exclusion of that information could cause problems for out-of-state payments from savings and loans and lending institutions.

Further, he contends that if taxpayers send payments to the county before Sept. 1, it will cause additional problems because the tax collectors will have to go to Edwardsville to retrieve the installments. He said that by the time the county sends the installments could be marked as late payments at the township offices.

"This is so trivial, it's unbelievable," Henkhaus said of the tax collector's arguments.

The tax collectors, however, don't see the issue as trivial.

The situation so angered the collectors that they asked Hall to act on their behalf. Nameoki Township Attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. then sent a letter threatening legal action against Henkhaus to Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zek" Smith, who represents the county.

The letter set a deadline for Henkhaus to comply with requests of the collectors. Although Smith contacted Slate by the deadline, there were no changes made in the procedure.

In a letter to Slate, Smith offered to sit down with the collectors and the county Data Processing Department "to try to arrange a mutually agreeable way to help you help your collectors at their expense." The letter from Smith added, "I don't believe that even they (the collectors) would expect the other taxpayers of this county to bear this expense."

Henkhaus said that mailing receipts to the taxpayers would cost the township an additional $8,000. "It's just another added expense," he said.

The treasurer seemed flabbergasted that the collectors were upset and told the Press-Record that the court order was complied with when tax bills were sent last year.

Previously, Henkhaus had made a move to see the township tax collector positions eliminated. That effort apparently started the rift between his office and the collectors, who would be without jobs if their positions were eliminated.

The court order resulted, but Henkhaus still contends that having the four township positions just to collect taxes each year is an unnecessary expense.

His office, he said, could easily handle the tax payments without any problems. "That's what we're set up to do," he said, adding that if payments were made to his office in the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville the system would be "more efficient."

Until Wednesday, Brooks said he had been performing some daily air monitoring duties. Those included taking daily readings for media broadcasts of the area's Pollution Standard Index, answering resident's air pollution complaints and driving to industrial sites to make visual checks of air conditions.

Brooks said he called Springfield to inform them the PSI readings, used to determine which pollutant offers the greatest daily threat, have been discontinued here.

The extent of air monitoring in the city by the state already has been reduced since the city cut its staff, according to Brooks. He said several air monitors used to check the level of particulates have been turned off within the past year by the IEPA.

He cited, as an example, a recently discontinued monitor at Norfolk & Western, which had been the site of the two highest 24-hour standard violations in the state. Brooks said he was tempted to try to continue the readings at that site himself, because of the importance he considers the location.

The state ambient air monitor director could not be reached for comment on the location of air monitors in Granite City.

"The state ambient air conditions are causing no apparent problems, it is difficult for residents to see the effectiveness of the air pollution department," Brooks said, but when problems arise, like the "white ash" situation a few years ago, the action of local air monitoring employees becomes more visible. "Any industry would be a little more lax if they knew there wouldn't be anyone watching," Brooks said.

According to Henkhaus, the existence of the four tax collectors is simply an added expense to those townships. He also questions the need for tax collectors, observing that only four exist in the 24 townships in the county.

"Any industry would be a little more lax if they knew there wouldn't be anyone watching," Brooks said.

Although last week, Smith said that the possibility of a contempt citation would be taken seriously, Henkhaus indicated that he only wants to get the issue resolved.

The petition seeking the hearing, signed last week by all four collectors and the township attorneys, asks that Henkhaus "show cause why he should not be found in contempt." If he doesn't show cause, the petition asks the court to "impose such sanctions" as deemed appropriate.

"Let's get the thing over with," Henkhaus said when asked about the hearing.

He said that complying to the tax collectors' requests would create additional expenses for the townships. If they want to force the issue, the result will be more money out of the pockets of the taxpayers in those townships, he contends.

"My God, this is 1983, not 1883," he said. Henkhaus added that he believes the process could and should be done simply and easily.

The hearing is set for 2 p.m. Tuesday. A judge has not yet been assigned.

Baby born 115 days after twin stillborn

Justin Christopher Kerber was born at 8:24 a.m. Sunday and was immediately named a candidate for the medical record books.

Justin was born 115 days after his twin was stillborn, the result of surgery to close the mother's cervix after the first baby died and of drugs to stop labor and avoid infection.

It is believed a new record, the only other recorded case being in 1978 when a U.S. Army hospital in West Germany reported the successful birth of one twin 69 days after the other was stillborn.

Justin is the son of Jack and Sherry Kerber of Granite City. He weighed 6 pounds, 14 ounces, and was born at St. John's Mercy Medical Center in West St. Louis County by Dr. Fernando Arias, who performed the surgery when the first baby was stillborn.

Shelley Justice in St. Louis chorus

Shelley Justice, 7-year old Granite City girl, auditioned with 400 girls in St. Louis and was selected to become one of the "Little Stearns" dancers to perform at the St. Louis Stearns' professional soccer games in the Checkerdome.

The group is chosen from girls seven to 12 years of age and for unusual ability to dance.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Justice, 2544 State St., and will begin the second grade at Niederhagen School in the fall. The local youngster has studied for two years at the Salem Dance Centre in Granite City, under the direction of Lia and Marge Salem. She also is a dancer with Dance '83 Dance Company and is to appear in the "Music Man" production this summer with the East Bank Players.

After being selected as a member of the St. Louis group, and as the only participant from Illinois, she will begin rehearsals this week

Area lost college and gained one

Sometimes, losing is winning. Granite Cityans actively tried to create a two-year college here in the early 1970s but were outmaneuvered by the Illinois Community College Board.

The board moved the goal out of reach by sharply raising the required population size and real estate tax base. It "assumed" that this community would join Lewis and Clark College at Godfrey, since that school is located in our county. But the ICCB kept the issue open long enough to permit a local study, which showed strong preference for Belleville Area College.

Lewis and Clark had old facilities, high taxes and considerable turmoil. BAC had newer structures, seemed to operate more smoothly, and kept a tight tax rein. Southern Madison County was annexed to the Belleville territory, and District 522 now has become the largest of all St. Louis metropolitan area institutions of higher learning, in terms of credit hours at its campus and extension centers.

Things changed at both places. Lewis and Clark improved after Wilbur Trimpe became its president. BAC went through a time of turmoil but in the 1980s weathered a strike, curbed excess costs and built up a financial balance.

The cash reserve was important because it enabled

BAC to partly underwrite the first two years of its Granite City Center, established this summer in the former North High; state aid has a built-in two-year delay in recognizing added credit hours.

The GC Center offers facilities better in some ways than those on the Carlyle Road campus. GC enrollment is rising fast and, by the 1990s, could begin to rival that of the busy campus in Belleville.

Trimpe's expertise has been obtained here, as a consultant. Former School District Nine faculty members who have joined the GC Center faculty include four educational specialists, Donald Davinroy, Teresa Johnson, Judith Sparks and Patricia Stamps. In retrospect, losing the initial battle led to events that "won the war."

A college now exists here and has a bright future. It was described as "the fastest-growing in the nation" when the District 522 board met here July 20.

Local residents can "have their cake, and eat it, too." We have a well-equipped college, operated by experienced administrators and teachers, and we still pay only the same low college tax we have been paying for years.

The dedication will take place Aug. 11, 1983, but the benefits will continue far into the future.

Classroom pods with movable walls will make possible great flexibility in handling classes of various sizes. Zoned heating and cooling will keep the college at an appropriate temperature, at minimum cost. The cafeteria, gymnasium, learning resource center and multipurpose room offer ample "elbow room." Space has been found for a spacious book store, a student game room, and a child-sitting center. There is extensive space for registration, financial aid and counseling programs.

A media center will enable students to view assigned films while their teachers perform other tasks, such as tutoring and recruiting, and avoid some of the "burnout" hazards associated with repetitious tasks. Library access will be better than that at many well-known universities.

Student activities will include twice-weekly gatherings, from 11 a.m. to noon Tuesdays and Thursdays.

With a silver and blue color scheme predominant, there will be varsity teams, including Granite City's state-champion strengths, soccer and wrestling; non-varsity athletic opportunities; a jazz band; a vocal chorus, cheerleaders and other groups.

Taxpayers of both the local schools and the local college are fortunate to have such an outstanding educational complex—and to know that it will be used so effectively.

Big, flexible campus is 'ideal'

As an additional comment on the new Granite City Center of Community College District 522, a word should be said about the building and grounds that have been leased by the Granite City Board of Education to Belleville Area College.

Striving to expand services to the northern part of its multi-county area, the college regards the new center as "ideal" from every standpoint, a tribute to local planning and leadership.

Two of the major occurrences during Bob Davis' 17 years as superintendent have been the opening of North High School in 1973 and its closing after ten years of operation.

Henry Gabriel and Sylvester Dulgeroff were hired to design a junior high and Virgil Dulgeroff was retained to plan a grade school. In the middle of the work on detailed specifications, they were asked to merge their concepts into a single school, District Nine's second high school.

The planning was sound. Even in 1973, it could not have been better designed for instructional purposes, as Provost Frank Gornick of the GC Center sees it. Areas already have been designated for the key college instructional programs, including business education, microcomputer classes and aviation maintenance training.

Support for A.O. Smith bonds

A recent guest editorial in the Press-Record from the Collinsville Herald encouraged cities to consider the possible effects before issuing industrial revenue bonds to assist small businesses. The editorial sparked healthy discussion and study by some city officials.

The end result of that discussion, we believe, should be the approval of bonds to help refurbish the A.O. Smith Corp. automotive frame plant on Missouri Avenue. A public hearing on the matter is scheduled for Aug. 2.

Leo Konzen, attorney for A.O. Smith, says the editorial prompted him to examine carefully both the Smith bond ordinances and the situation in Vandalia which was cited in the editorial. A company for which Vandalia had issued bonds defaulted and the city, which was held title on the property, subsequently was named as the defaulter. The editorial questioned what that might do to Vandalia's future bond ratings.

Konzen called Robert Jackson, city attorney for Vandalia, and found out that the suit has been dismissed, the company has paid the bonds and that there is no damage to the city's bond rating. It could have been an important test.

Besides, Konzen says, the Vandalia problem stemmed from an old municipal revenue bond law which required cities to take title to the properties until the bonds were paid. That is no longer necessary and will not be in the A.O. Smith case.

As to the city's liability in default cases, Konzen says, "The city has no liability. It gets no credit, no improved bond rating, if the bonds are properly paid off, and it has no liability if they are not."

We believe Konzen and support passage of the A.O. Smith bonds as a safe way to help get Granite City people back to work.

"I think it was good for St. Louis and the area, but I don't think they'll get all the money back. I think they (promoters) overspent. It was definitely good for St. Louis, more people know about St. Louis and the VP Fair, but again I doubt the money will come back."

Paul Gauzen, Granite City

"No, I don't think they'll get that money back, but I don't think there's a monetary value on the contest. I think that St. Louis will get much (revenue) back in tourism. As far as St. Louis hosting the Miss America pageant, I think it would be fine as long as it doesn't cost the people anything."

Sally Barton, Granite City

"As far as the money spent, they'll never really know how much extra revenue was generated by the contest. I do think that it has the potential to bring many people to St. Louis, and the area. Yes, I think it was a good investment. St. Louis is a beautiful city and around it are some beautiful towns."

Tina Tallman, Granite City

"Yes, I think they'll get the money back that was put into it. There hasn't been anything like that in St. Louis for a long time. I think it was good for St. Louis. It helped display the city."

The Forum ... Ambulance crews always there when needed

To the Editor,

Unfortunately our family has urgently needed the services of the Granite City Ambulance Service many times during the past several years. Fortunately, these men have arrived promptly and have been efficient, caring, gentle, well-prepared and well-equipped, that it has been a very real comfort and security to know that they, men, who assist us so ably in are ready to help at a times of great stress and anxiety.

I want, therefore, to publicly commend them and those in charge of training

Bus driver resents 'slam' in Forum letter

To the Editor,

I am writing in regard to a letter published in the July 18 edition signed "Van Hook Supporter."

If the person felt that strongly in support of the Van Hooks, fine. But what disturbed me is the statement, and I quote, "If more working mothers would quit driving buses and taking work away from men who have families to support and would devote more time to their daughters and sons, I guarantee you a lot of this would not be going on." What I'd like to know is what his driving a bus got to do with what Mr. Van Hook was accused of doing. The kids were in school, not on a bus.

First I'd like to say that most of us aren't only mothers, we are also proud grandmothers. Our daughters and sons are already out of our homes on their own. And those that do still have children at home are, I repeat, are at home with them whenever they aren't in school. Also during summer months whenever school is out.

Second, the same equal rights apply to men as to women. All they have to do is go out and apply for the job. We aren't taking any work away from anyone. Also, working only four hours a day, a man would certainly have a chore on his hands to support a family.

Most of these women are working to help supplement their husbands' incomes, such as disability, etc. Others work to support themselves due to death of their husbands. Either way, we are out doing a job, not sitting back drawing welfare!

I'd also like to tell this person, if you haven't tried it, don't knock it. We're not just bus drivers, we are professionals, and darn proud of it.

Send only violent persons to state prisons

To the Editor,

The Illinois Department of Corrections on July 14 ceased to accept individuals convicted of misdemeanor crimes.

Public Act 83-19, signed by Governor Thompson, July 13, mandates that the Department of Corrections refuse acceptance of misdemeanants into the prison system.

Those sentenced for misdemeanors are better handled in county detention facilities. This will free up room in the state corrections system for more violent and dangerous criminals.

This measure is, also, critical in light of the July 12 order by the Illinois Supreme Court which eliminates the only option available to the department to prevent overcrowding of the state's prisons — awards of more than 90-days good conduct credits to inmates who have earned them.

Those convicted of violent crimes now make up approximately 65 percent of the entire prison population. Misdemeanants number approximately 300 on any given day in the 13,900-bed state prison system.

Prison cells are a precious and expensive commodity that should be reserved for violent and dangerous people who have harmed others or unlawfully taken another's property.

Hidden costs boost utility taxes in area

To the Editor,

Your recent article of front-page importance, re: church utility taxes, warrants comment.

You stated Granite City has a two percent utility tax on telephones, etc. Who's kidding whom? My latest phone bill, identical with preceding ones, reflects a 5.43 percent city tax. Total tax on each monthly bill amounts to 13.51 percent, an outrage!

This is not a personal affront, just an effort to "set the record straight."

MRS. JAMES C. MURPHY
2548 State St.
(Editor's Note: You caught us napping. Granite City does, indeed, have a five percent tax on telephones.

Also, any utility collecting and distributing a utility tax is entitled to add a collection fee, set by state law. A spokesman for Illinois Bell agrees that 5.43 percent is about the correct figure for the tax and collection fee.)

Seek support for city's ambulance service

To the Editor,

The Granite City ambulance service is now facing possible discontinuation. We feel our qualified staff provides the most vital service to the residents of Granite City. Our response time is immediate to any emergency call in Granite City.

Your ambulance service has a qualified staff including five certified paramedics and 10 registered emergency medical technicians.

If you support this life-saving service, we urge you to call your aldermen and express your feelings of concern. Your call and support will be of great benefit and appreciated by all.

We urge everyone to attend the next city council meeting, Tuesday, July 26, at the Granite City Township building to express feelings of concern.

Mobile home tax collection working

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

Attempts by Madison County officials to collect delinquent mobile home taxes were termed a success last week by the assistant state's attorney who originated a plan for the collection.

Marshall "Zeke" Smith told the county board that $38,800 has been collected so far, but some officials still are upset about plans to collect one-third of all delinquent taxes from county taxing districts.

The tax has not been collected by the county for a decade, a finding that perturbs many officials in the taxing districts.

The one-third percent deduction is considered "up front" money to get the plan going, but several taxing districts, including Nameoki Township, Chouteau Township and Venice, still are against the proposal.

Smith had said it would cost $16,000 to hire an attorney and a secretary to get the plan started.

Various officials of taxing districts didn't care for the deduction idea to provide "up-front money" or implementation of the proposal. Nameoki Township officials contend that starting the program and collecting the delinquent taxes are problems with which the county must deal.

But collecting the tax has, in effect, become a problem for the taxing districts. In Nameoki Township, for instance, the township office has been deluged with telephone calls after the county placed liens against some properties.

Township Tax Collector Norman Hall said he had received 18 calls as of Tuesday and "several dozen calls" had come in at the township office. Many of the township residents who found that liens had been placed against their property are senior citizens or others on fixed incomes who couldn't begin to pay 10 years of delinquent taxes.

Hall said he talked to Sam Xanders, the assistant state's attorney working with the taxing districts, who said the county is willing to work out a payment program for those on fixed incomes.

A meeting will take place with township officials, Xanders and residents at 7 p.m. Wednesday, July 27, at the township office. Hall said the main concern now is senior citizens and others on fixed incomes.

The county believes it can collect up to $200,000 of $700,000 owed in back taxes.

News Notes

Illinois Attorney General Neil P. Hartigan was elected chairman of the Midwest Conference of Attorneys General in Asheville, N.C., during a meeting of the National Conference of Attorneys General.

This summer marks the 50th anniversary of the 1933 epidemic of St. Louis encephalitis, in which nearly 1,100 cases occurred in southwestern and southern Illinois and more than 200 persons died. There were no outbreaks until 1979, when 600 cases were reported, with 47 deaths.

If Democratic Cong. Paul Simon thinks he can be elected as senator, Republicans also have reason to doubt whether Sen. Charles Percy can win a fourth term, it was asserted this week by Percy's GOP primary foe, Cong. Tom Corcoran. The latter said Percy's "base of support has continually eroded. The only way Republicans can keep the seat and retain Senate control is by nominating someone the people can believe in."

Birth rate down from 1982

The Madison County birth rate in May and June declined by 48 births from those recorded during the same two months in 1982.

According to the vital statistics recorded by Evelyn M. Bowles, county clerk, 260 babies were born last May, compared to 307 last year. In June, 275 births were recorded, compared to 296 the same month last year.

A breakdown of the births for May and June show 275 males and 260 females were born. The statistics include four sets of twins born in June. No twins were recorded in May.

The number of deaths reported for May and June were 373 compared to 303 during the same period last year.

Marriages dropped from 543 in May and June last year to 496 for the same period this year.

Two men set fire, then flee

Police and firemen are cooperating in an investigation of a fire last week. Arson is blamed, and two men are being sought.

At the Aetna Freight Lines, Inc., metal office building, 1556 State St., flames broke out near the back door and spread quickly.

Witnesses saw two men enter a brown auto and flee south toward 18th Street, traveling in the alley between State Street and Grand Avenue. The 1970s-vintage Olds Cutlass had a black vinyl top and a Missouri license plate.

The charred structure is still standing but was ruined.

A $15,000 loss estimate includes $10,000 damage to the building and $5,000 damage to its contents.

A burglar took cash from a metal security box before discarding it last week. Its ownership was traced to Oliver Corzine, 2728 Buxton Ave., who also reported the theft of keys and a small cashbox.

Chapter I to be topic

The Chapter I federally-financed instructional program will be among the discussion topics of the Granite City School Board on Aug. 2.

Formerly known as Title I, the program has been directed for a number of years by Mrs. Ruth D. Lahr, who retired this summer. Its new director is to be Warren Collins, veteran curriculum coordinator who has been promoted to administrative assistant for elementary schools.

Collins also is serving as gifted program coordinator, succeeding Mrs. Merna M. Musterman, who is resuming teaching duties.

Part of Collins' curriculum work is now the responsibility of James Dumont. Formerly principal of Granite City High School South, Dumont is the administrative assistant for secondary schools.

Along with his experience as a teacher, principal and district curriculum administrator, Collins has taken additional training this summer.

Whether Chapter I duties should be performed by an individual handling multiple tasks, or whether they should be the responsibility of someone concentrating solely on the federal program, is to be explored in the board discussion.

As a cost reduction measure, the district has eliminated a number of teaching, coordinating, extracurricular, administrative, custodial and cafeteria positions for the 1983-84 year.

With school nurse positions also being reduced, the scope of health services will be reviewed Aug. 2. Among the nurses' tasks are throat cultures, which help youngsters avoid rheumatic heart disease, and scoliosis evaluations, which aid in preventing spinal problems.

The 1983-84 music education plans also are to be considered, including the 225-member elementary vocal chorus. The group met after school hours and presented concerts to third grade classes.

Robert Braundmeier, addressing the board, estimated that the portion of teaching pay that has been allocated to the grade school chorus totals $1,156 a year, or about $5 per participating pupil.

Parents help transport the youngsters.

PRESS-RECORD

In District 22 Playoffs

Tri-City downs Collinsville; meets E'ville tonight

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

ALTON—Sunday afternoon, Tri-City pitcher Mike Zukas wanted to put behind any thought of what had happened in Edwardsville the night before.

Saturday, Zukas was sent in to throw one strike to put the opening game of the District 22 North Division playoffs into extra innings. Instead, he walked Brian Clawson, and Edwardsville won the game 7-4.

Zukas was fresh for Sunday's losers' bracket game of the double elimination tournament against Collinsville. He was so fresh that he and the Triplets defeated Collinsville 9-5. Collinsville, which lost to Alton 8-0 Saturday, is eliminated from the North Division tournament.

Tri-City, with one loss in the tournament, plays Edwardsville tonight in a 8 p.m. at Hoppe Field in Edwardsville. The winner of that game will play Alton Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Gordon Moore Park for the North Division championship. A second game, if necessary, will be played Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Alton.

Alton breezed to its 14th consecutive win with a blistering 17-1 victory over Edwardsville Sunday night. Alton capitalized on 11 hits, 14 walks and seven Edwardsville errors for the easy win. Marty Johns paced Alton with a four-hit performance.

The Triplets were fortunate Zukas was able to complete the game for Tri-City because there were no regular pitchers to back him up. Dan Whitsett started Saturday's game and could not pitch two days in a row. Rick Daily, the other member of Tri-City's pitching rotation, was not at Sunday's game.

"We had to win this game, and Zukas pitched an excellent game. All we wanted him to do is pitch well and keep us in the game until we started hitting," Tri-City manager Larry Corey said.

"Maybe we should have let Mike come in a little earlier yesterday (Saturday), and we might have come out of there with a win, but Mike threw a good game today and didn't let that walk bother him," Corey said.

Although the Triplets never trailed in the game, but they did make things difficult for a half inning.

In the bottom of the fourth, Tri-City right fielder John Linhart dropped a routine fly ball hit by Ray Seamon. Doug Fish singled into center field, but center fielder Mill Roe bobbled the ball. Seamon scored, and Fish went to third on the miscue.

"It's tough to ask a kid to come in the game in a situation like that and expect him to throw a strike. He did go in there and get a strike on the first pitch... You really can't expect him to pitch two or three strikes in a row."

Larry Corey
Legion coach

Fish scored on a RBI single by Tom Lewis to tie the game at 3-3. Since both runs were unearned, Zukas kept Tri-City in the game until the Triplets were able to start hitting. They didn't quit until the end of the game.

In the fifth inning, Daren DePew walked, and Linhart doubled to get things going. Collinsville manager Jack Parker took starter Steve Gioletto out of the game and replaced him with Doug Fish.

Fish intentionally walked Vince Mitchell, who had doubled home a run and tripled and scored earlier, to load the bases. Kevin Patterson hit a grounder to Collinsville second baseman Tom Lewis for an apparent double play.

However, Mitchell took shortstop Damon Buehrer, who was covering second, out of the play, allowing DePew to score.

Linhart later scored on a wild pitch by Fish, and with two out, Scott Corey doubled to bring in Patterson. Fish threw another wild pitch, and Corey tried to score all the way from second base, but Fish was waiting at the plate for the tag.

The Triplets added more three more runs in the sixth inning. Whitsett reached on an error by Seamon, the third baseman, and Roe and Brian Levin walked to load the bases. DePew hit a grounder to Buehrer, who made an error that allowed Whitsett and Roe to score. Levin scored on a wild pitch to finish Tri-City's scoring.

Collinsville managed to score two runs in the seventh inning with a single by Buehrer and a wild pitch, but it was not enough to cause Zukas any serious problems.

"We got some timely hits which really helped us, and they made a few errors. We still made too many errors, and we have to cut down on those if we're going to win," Corey said.

Tri-City also scored twice in the first inning. Dave Sheikh doubled and scored when the right fielder and the pitcher made wild throws. Linhart reached on Lewis' error and scored on Mitchell's double.

Mitchell tripled with two out in the third and scored on Patterson's single for the Triplets' other run.

"Vince is one of our underrated players," Corey said. "He's been moved around to different positions all year for us, and he's been doing the job for us in the field and at the plate. He knows he's going to be moved around, and he's ready to play no matter what."

STRAINING. Tri-City first baseman Scott Corey strains and loses his hat as he tries to slide under the tag of Collinsville pitcher Doug Fish in the sixth inning of the District 22 North Division losers' bracket game.

Corey was out as he tried to score from second on a wild pitch, but Tri-City won 9-5 and advances into the semifinals of the tournament.

Triplets lose opener to Edwardsville

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE—Mike Zukas, the most consistent pitcher for the Tri-City American Legion baseball team, was sent into the first round game of the District 22 North Division playoffs Saturday to do one thing—throw one strike.

Zukas, who indicated to Tri-City manager Larry Corey he wanted to relieve in the opener against Edwardsville, was sent into the toughest situation in baseball.

The game was tied at 6-6. Edwardsville loaded the bases with two out. Batter Brian Clawson had a full count. Under the circumstances, Zukas was probably the one to count on to get a strike across the plate.

Indeed, Zukas did pitch a strike. The problem was that Clawson fouled off the pitch, which kicked the inside corner. The next pitch was low, Clawson walked, and Edwardsville won the game 7-6 to advance to the winners' bracket of the tournament.

"It's tough to ask a kid to come in the game in a situation like that and expect him to throw a strike," Corey said. "He did go in there and get a strike on the first pitch, but he fouled it. You really can't expect him to pitch two or three strikes in a row."

Tri-City seemed to have the game under control after scoring a seventh inning run. Vince Mitchell singled and scored on Scott Corey's single to make the score 6-5. Corey was thrown out at home by right fielder Brian Pouch when Corey tried to score on Mill Roe's single.

"I felt that we were in control of things after we scored the run, and I thought we were going to hold them," Corey, the manager, said.

However, Rick Daily, who came in relief of starter Dan Whitsett in the fourth inning, was unable to hold the lead for the Triplets.

Dave Vieth reached on an error for Tri-City shortstop Brian Levin, and Randy Williams lofted a double into center field just out of the reach of center fielder Mill Roe.

Greg Colligan grounded out to Daily, but he walked Dave Lange to load the bases. Daily struck out Pouch for Edwardsville's second out, giving Tri-City a chance to win the game in seven innings.

Instead, Daily walked Tim Brinkman on five pitches to force in the tying run. Daily then struggled to a full count against Clawson before Corey made the change.

"I didn't think Rick was going to be able to pitch a third strike because he was so hyper. He tends to get too excited in a situation like that," Corey said.

With the Edwardsville bench making all the noise it could make, Zukas fired a strike, which Clawson fouled off behind him. With the bench on his side, Clawson had the confidence to avoid swinging at the next pitch.

Clawson and Williams, who scored the winning run, both leaped into the arms of their teammates after touching first and home plate respectively.

"(Clawson) really had to have a lot of confidence to know the strike zone in a situation like that," Edwardsville manager Ken Schaake said. "It was a tremendous effort on the part of the team and of him to be able to win the game like that."

Schaake, who expressed concern about his team's confidence prior to the playoffs, saw Edwardsville increase its confidence in the last inning.

"I thought we had a little bit of a let down after they scored the run to go ahead," Schaake said. "When we got the runners on though, our confidence got stronger and stronger. We have to make noise to keep everyone up because we don't have the outstanding talent to just go out and do it."

"We have to be cheerleaders so we can play above ourselves a little bit and make the outstanding plays," Schaake said.

There were a lot of not so outstanding plays in the game as well. In the first inning, Dave Sheikh doubled, moved to third on a wild throw by Pouch and scored on a wild throw by pitcher Dave Scheibel. Then, Daily singled, advanced to third on two errors by Scheibel, and scored on a ground out by John Linhart.

Tri-City also scored in the third when Sheikh singled and scored on Mitchell's single, in the fifth on Daily's home run over the left field fence, and in the sixth when Sheikh singled and scored on the Triplets committed six errors.

"Errors plagued Tri-City. Only three of Edwardsville's runs were earned as the Triplets committed six errors."

"We could have played much better defensively," Corey said. "We made a lot of errors that we shouldn't have made. If we could have got the ball over the plate a few times, we could have won this game."

Because the Triplets lost, they have to win the remaining games to win the tournament. Tri-City defeated Collinsville 9-5 Sunday (see related story) and will have to win Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to advance to the District 22 finals.

Soccer team finishes second in Mexican tourney

The Granite City Steeler soccer team, a group of 11-year-old boys, finished second in an invitational youth soccer tournament in Mexico City, Mexico recently. They are the first team.

from Granite City comprised of exclusively Granite City youths, to compete internationally. Coached by Mike Vincent, the Stealers finished the round robin tournament, which began on July 19, with a 2-2 record, losing to Mericel 3-2, and the eventual tournament champions, the Jaguars 4-1.

In the final round of the tournament, the Stealers averaged their earlier loss to Mericel, winning 1-0 in the second overtime, to secure a second place finish. The Jaguars went on to finish the tournament undefeated.

In addition to the Stealers, the Jaguars and Mericel, the fourth team in the tournament was Herradura, a team from a town of the same name just outside of Mexico City.

The teams in the tournament finished with the following records: Jaguars, 4-0, first; Stealers 2-2, second; Mericel, 1-3, third; and Herradura, 1-3, fourth.

The Stealers, incidentally, were the only team in the tournament to score on the Jaguars. Chris Ryan, the Stealers' captain, scored the goal. In addition to that goal, Ryan scored seven others to lead the team in goals during the tournament. Two other Stealers scored in the tournament. Jeff Boyles scored in the first game, against Mericel, on July 12, and Mike Livesay booted one in on a corner kick in the third game against Herradura.

Tournament play, which began on July 12, concluded on July 15. With four days before they were scheduled to return home, the Stealers toured Mexico City and Mexico which included a visit to the ancient Aztec pyramids.

Overall, the trip was a success, Vincent said. Although the coach added it would have been nice to have won. If success can be measured in ways other than what a team's win-loss record is, the Stealers were indeed a success. They were invited back to four soccer tournaments.

Vincent estimated the cost of the trip to be $14,000.

Capahas downs Spanky's in Missouri tournament

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

WEST COUNTY, MO.—Two good old boys from the South, Bill Lloyd for the 7-Up/Spanky's and Brian Becker for the Cape Girardeau Capahas, met in a pitching dual Sunday afternoon here in the second day of the annual Missouri State baseball tournament, sponsored by the National Baseball Congress.

Becker, a stylish left-hander from Old Miss, defeated Lloyd of Mississippi's Delta State, as the 7-Up/Spanky's fell, 3-2. Becker whiffed eight Illinois batters, while Lloyd K'd five Capahas.

The loss in the double elimination tournament dropped the Spanky's to 31-19 for the season, while Cape upped its record to a sparkling 28-13. Four of Cape's 28 Capas victories were accounted for by Cape having won four of their last five encounters with 7-Up/Spanky's. However, for the season, the Illinois club is up over the Missouri nine by a 7-4 margin.

Cape had to battle its way to a shot at 7-Up/Spanky's by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 11-8, in Saturday's night game. The Sotolars, in the meet's leadoff game, turned back the St. Louis Knights, 9-6. The Browns, however, stayed alive by walloping the Knights, 12-4, in Sunday's leadoff game.

Tonight, at 7:30 p.m., the Browns and 7-Up/Spanky's will battle it out to see which will continue.

However, win or lose, Coach Eldon Wartfield's 7-Up/Spanky's club will still travel to Wichita, Kan., next week to play in the annual NBC tournament; they have been awarded a "at large berth" because in the NBC final national rankings they were picked No. 5.

Warfield's warriors broke out on top yesterday as Bill Stille led off the second frame with a single to center. Stille moved to second on John Vitale's fielder's choice and scored when Darrell Wehrndt blasted out the first of his two hits.

It was a shortlived lead, however, as Capes husky catcher, Steve Williams, blasted a 1-1 pitch for a four-bagger. The Capahas moved ahead in the third inning on a wild-pitch, and scored what proved to be the winning third-inning run in the sixth as Steve Williams singled home Blake Miller who got on base on a fielder's choice.

Going into the ninth inning, Cape was ahead, 3-1. After the leadoff man had popped to second, hard-hitting Tom Greco blasted his 14th four-bagger of the season.

Greco finished the game with a 2-for-3 as did Wehrndt.

Jarvis works magic over Granite City (again)

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Jim Jarvis is a name the Granite City Junior American Legion baseball team may not like, but by now, it's certainly a name they've learned to respect.

Saturday afternoon, with the sun pelting a blistering 103 degrees, Jarvis, Dupo's ace hurler, was even hotter. The 9-2 right-hander dealt Granite City its sixth loss of the season as he hurled his second three-hit performance of the season against the local nine. Jarvis' efforts were good enough to secure a 7-0 Dupo victory.

The victory improves Dupo's record to 14-5 and guarantees Coach Don King's squad of at least a second place finish. The loss drops Granite City's record to 14-4, and a likely third place finish in the league. Both teams trail league leading East St. Louis at 14-3.

It was just one month ago to the day, that Jarvis worked his magic with a similar performance over Granite City. A three-hit performance, Dupo won that game 7-1. Tom Mosby avoided that shutout by slapping a Jarvis fastball over the left field fence.

Saturday, however, Granite City was not even that fortunate.

The nifty Dupo hurler allowed just a pair of hits in the second inning, and another in the fifth. None of which had the impact of Mosby's solo home run of a month ago.

It was that first game a month ago, ironically enough, when things started souring for Granite City. The local nine was 9-1 overall and led the league by a half a game. Then the Dupo game. "Since then, things haven't been the same," lamented Granite City left fielder Tom Adamits before the game. "It sure would be nice to beat him here, on our field." Adamits said.

But, it wasn't meant to be. Dupo picked up one run in the first inning, by none other than Jarvis. He reached on a walk as Granite City's Kelly Krausz had initial control problems. Jarvis advanced to second as Chris Cobb walked, advanced to third and scored on an errant throw to second.

The score remained 1-0 until the fifth inning, when Dupo busted the game open with four runs on three hits.

Mike Long reached on a fielder's choice which put teammate Keith Meagher at second base. Bill Gooch reached on an infield single to put runners on first and second. Jarvis reacted on an error as Krausz attempted to catch Long sliding into third.

Cobb reached as Granite City's second baseman Brent Cook booted a ground ball which simultaneously scored Long.

A weary Krausz then issued a bases loaded walk to Don King which forced in Gooch and improved Dupo's lead to 3-0.

A fastball to Dupo's designated hitter Lee Mitchell was the nail in the coffin as Mitchell slapped a one-out single to left field, scoring Jarvis and Cobb.

Krausz ended Dupo's rally as he got Glen Gordo to ground out to him and knocked out Simmons.

Wanting more than a 5-0 victory, Dupo picked up its final two runs in the top of the seventh. King singled to center field, and then on a run and bunt advanced from second to home on an error by Mosby escaped out of play.

Dupo scored its final run on that bunt, which put Mitchell on base. Mitchell, who had advanced to second on the same error which scored King, advanced to third on a wild pitch and then scored as Simmons rapped a single to right field.

Despite the loss, Granite City Coach Kevin Sykes said he's "comfortable" with his team's apparent third place standing in the league. Sykes said, "They're the ones who have to prove themselves should we meet again. The pressure is on us now."

Saturday's matchup, which was a scheduled doubleheader, was shortened to one game because of the heat.

Jarvis was the winning pitcher with eight strike outs and three walks. Krausz, who allowed just seven hits, was the losing pitcher. Krausz struck out six and walked five. Both pitchers went the distance.

Granite City hosts division leading East St. Louis this evening at Granite City High School's Varsity Field. The game, which is Granite City's final scheduled game of the season, begins at 6 p.m.

SETTLE DOWN. Granite City Junior Legion baseball coach Kevin Sykes (10) discusses strategy during Dupo's four-run fifth inning Saturday at Granite City High Varsity Field. Despite Sykes' trip to the mound, Granite City lost the contest 7-0.

McDonalds wins twinbill from improving Chiefs

By BELINDA CONLEY

GRANITE CITY — McDonald's took two from the Granite City Chiefs in Inter-City League baseball at Wilson Park Sunday.

If it weren't for the uniforms, no one would have known that the Chiefs were the same team that played so poorly against Edwardsville last week. Although they still lost both games, the first by a score of 6-2, and the second 3-1, the Chiefs hitting and defense seems to be improving.

McDonald's Pat Hogan led off with a single to right field and then stole second and third. Jeff Parker sacrificed for the first RBI of the game, and McDonald's lead 1-0.

In the third, the Chiefs Mike McPherson tripled home Jim Small, and Rich Takmaljan singled home Bruce Nation for a second run, and the Chiefs led for the first and last time of the day.

While Chief hitters were putting their team ahead, pitcher Mike McPherson was busy trying to keep them ahead. McPherson did not give up another run until the fifth, when McDonald reached on an error by third baseman Tommy Settles, and scored off Ken Wilson's triple to left. Al Yount singled, sending Wilson across the plate.

McDonald's put the lid on the scoring with three runs in the seventh. Ken Wilson walked with one out, and Yount, the next batter up, singled down the left field line. After Jeff Parker flied to center, Steve Ficker came to the plate. Although Ficker hadn't had a hit all day, Chief manager Dennis Gurkin ordered McPherson to walk him. The plan backfired, however, when Ficker reached out and took an "intentional ball" right up the middle for a single which sent Wilson home. Yount had also singled, and both he and Ficker scored on a single by Draper.

The Chiefs stayed close for most of the game, but in the end the pitching of Keith Burton was just too much for them. Not throwing strikes, he threw to put the ball in play. The Chiefs' defense is normally Crawford's downfall, but aside from a few minor mistakes, the defense played well, and Crawford was very effective.

McDonald's scored first when Ken Wilson singled, stole second and third, and scored on a triple by Yount. The Chiefs tied the game at 1-1 in the fourth. McPherson tripled to right for his third hit of the day and scored on a single by Ron Pinkston.

A bit of a controversy arose in the sixth, when Ken Wilson hit what was apparently a home run to right field. Wilson rounded the bases and got home long before the throw. Wilson and his teammates were celebrating the go ahead run, when Chief manager Dennis Gurkin claimed that Wilson had not touched the plate. The umpire changed his ruling and called the runner out. Outraged, Wilson began ranting at the umpire and was thrown out of the game.

Wilson's tantrum left his team in a worse and than the loss of his run. McDonald's started the doubleheader with only nine players, and with Wilson ejected, manager Ray Harris was forced to either play left field himself, or play without a leftfielder. Luckily for McDonald's, Harris is a competent fielder.

As it turned out, the cancelled home run did not cost McDonald's the game. Yount, the next batter after Wilson, walked and scored on Steve Ficker's second RBI single of the day. Yount's run finished up the scoring for the day with McDonald's up 2-1.

The Chiefs will play Maryville in a 1 p.m. doubleheader at Wilson Park next Sunday, while McDonald's takes on Edwardsville at Hoppe Field in Edwardsville.

Kruse breezes to Tri-City's feature victory

GRANITE CITY — Mark Kruse of Goddard, Mo., took like a Sunday afternoon drive with his feature win at Tri-City Speedway Friday night.

Even though he started last in a small field of very good drivers, it didn't take him long to overtake them. Steve Quertemorse and Bert Griffin battled for second with Quertemorse taking it.

In the street, Steve Daves of Kirkwood, Mo., was the undisputed winner. The real race was for the next three spots. Rick Rhoads, Ed Kunz, and Bob Hale battled it out with several lead changes among these three.

On the final lap, Rick

Rhoads took second spot with Ed Kunz running third until he spun between turn three and four. Ed Kunz passed him for third spot.

Skip Miller started his mini-sprint a half a lap down in the heat race, but still managed to win. But in the feature, Carl Ferguson was the winner going away. Miller got caught behind some heavy wheels, and drove and did not have enough time to take Ferguson once he got around.

Next Saturday, July 30, the MARA Midgits will run on the one-half mile. The weekly show was cancelled because of lack of interest.

Boxing: not one of my favorites

By AL BARNES

Prize-fighting has never been a favorite sport of mine. In fact, it was the only sport I ever avoided by being assigned to cover by my editor.

It's a brutal enterprise, a sport in which the ultimate goal, really, if we'd only admit it, is to completely harm an opponent. I don't want to say "my man" to "kill" his opponent, etc. This, I didn't do. The fight was always about myself. And, I don't.

Funny thing, though, that the most brutal and bloody fight I ever saw wasn't a professional bout, but a bareknuckled fray between brothers, and twin brothers, at that.

It happened up at Lincoln, Ill., at the Odd Fellows Orphan Home around 1924. We had a custom there that, if two fellows had a disagreement that they couldn't talk out, they'd meet behind the toolshed behind the Main building and "fight it out" until one or the other either said he was sorry, or gave up.

The fights were always very short, usually lasting from 6:30 p.m. until the gory finish.

This evening it was the Hindman twins, Hubert vs. Herbert. Both were solidly juilt and fine physical specimens. They fought with a frenzy that one can't hardly imagine today. A hour when-by and then another. Until, around nine o'clock they both were so tired they settled for taking turns slugging each other. The code, too, was never to stop.

Time, we finally did. It was something one never forgets.

How to save money on your grocery bills

Here are some important shopping tips

- 1—Check specials in food store advertisements.
- 2—Get to know the butcher and produce manager.
- 3—Find out when deliveries of perishables are made and shop on those days. Fresh foods last longer and consequently, you'll waste less.
- 4—Learn to estimate accurately the amounts of food needed. Keep a record of the amount of food you throw away in a week. It may alert you to ways you can reduce waste.
- 5—For economy and variety, use eggs, dry beans, and peanut butter in place of meat some of the time. These foods provide protein and most other nutrients that meat supplies.

- 6—Use nonfat dry milk, which is less expensive than fluid milk, at least part of the time in cooking and as a beverage.
- 7—By law, economy sizes of non-food items must save you at least 5% over other sizes of the same brand.
- 8—Try to shop as seldom as possible, preferably once a week.
- 9—Always shop with a well thought out shopping list. Try to base your list of foods on your menu for the week.
- 10—Take advantage of the special coupon offers going on at First Granite City Savings in conjunction with your local Schnuck's grocer.

Public hearing on floodway map

A public hearing at 1:30 p.m. Friday, July 29, at Laclede's Landing in St. Louis will study a proposed floodway map for the Mississippi River from Lock and Dam 22 near Hannibal, Mo., to the mouth of the Kaskaskia River near Chester, Ill.

The hearing will be conducted by the Illinois Department of Transportation's Division of Water Resources and the Missouri Department of Natural Resources. It will be in the headquarters building of the Bi-State Development Agency, 707 N. First St., St. Louis.

"A floodway map is an administrative tool to assist the federal, state and local agencies that are managing development in the flood plain," according to a spokesman for Bi-State. "Because so many different agencies are involved along the Mississippi River, the states of Illinois and Missouri have agreed to prepare a master floodway map that would be adopted for use by all of them."

The Bi-State Development Agency serves as the coordinating agency for the seven port districts and authorities in the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis and chairs the Port Advisory Council, he added.

100 testify against GC budget

By GEORGEANN MOORE
of the Press-Record

About 100 residents attending the Granite City levy and budget public hearing last week showed a unified front against the city's proposed 32 percent tax hike.

The aldermen subsequently failed to rally amongst themselves for its support. The council took a verbal beating from an audience that applauded 12 speakers, voicing their individual protests against an anticipated $80 to $100 tax raise per property owner. No one spoke in favor of the increase.

One by one, residents took their turns at the microphone, each giving a slightly different reason for wishing to avoid a property tax hike, but their messages shared a common theme.

"When you get hurt, you start to yell," Bill Baggett, 3000 Palmer Ave., said. "We don't have the money to pay."

Baggett was the third speaker to step forward at the Granite City Township Hall Tuesday evening, after Fourth Ward Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman, finance committee chairman, encouraged residents to guide the council toward a levy that would "feel good" to all residents and residents.

The crowd, composed mainly of older citizens, handed back to aldermen, but it was uncomfortable suggestions that included cutting the city's ambulance service, hiking the cost of health insurance for employees, continuing an employee wage freeze, extinguishing some street lights and eliminating certain city positions.

Three residents backed a citizen's council to monitor city practices and to compare them to other municipalities. Mark Malone, 3 Terrace Lane, "strongly suggested" such a group be formed to show the city how to manage its finances in a period of declining population and economic hardships.

Malone called the proposed increase, from $1.57 to $2.09 per $100 assessed valuation on city property, an "outrageous" move. He said he was astonished at the size of the increase.

Alexander Toth, 2854 Edison Ave., agreed with Schuman that the tax rate has remained fairly stable the past few years, but cited a continually rising assessed valuation of his home as a "big catch" of additional revenue for the city. His said his city taxes have increased from $187 in 1977 to $215.

He called Schuman a good levy and budget salesman, who should not be allowed to convince residents that a 32 percent levy increase would be the only actual tax increase.

"I wouldn't say that I'd starve to death," Toth said, if the council decides to raise the city's levy, "but I'd say it's unjust taxation."

Richard Brown, 55, told aldermen he has lived in the city all his life and that the proposed tax levy created the first time he felt compelled to attend a public hearing. "To speak... I must be pretty upset," Brown said.

The resident compared the city's financial situation to that of the school district and suggested the same solution—cuts. He expressed concern that a higher levy would discourage industrial activity here. "We're going to lose more than we have now," Brown said, if the increased levy is approved.

Tommye Hopke, 4010 Route Ave., admonished the council to live within its budget. "If taxes increase," she said, "I'll have to leave Granite City."

In the council meeting following the hearing, Schuman said he would put off a final reading of the tax levy until aldermen find a more "palatable" tax rate. The council has until September to approve its levy.

Later in the session, Seventh Ward Alderman Paul R. Bowler cited the residents' remarks at the public hearing and his subsequently-defeated proposal to eliminate the city's ambulance service.

Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer took another view of the public hearing. "All we heard tonight were people agin' things," he said.

Two sentenced for taking tools in van

Two St. Louis men have been sentenced to five years in prison on charges of burglary of a motor vehicle after they pleaded guilty last week in the St. Clair County Circuit Court in connection with the theft of tools from a van.

The men, Eddie Earl Conners, 27, and David L. Scott, 27, were accused of taking tools March 16 from a van owned by a Granite City plumbing firm. The tools were taken from a project at the East St. Louis Center.

They were confronted by Robin Cobine, an officer with the University Police, who attempted to stop them as they fled from the scene in an auto.

Cobine received minor injuries when he reached into the auto in an attempt to turn off the ignition, and the driver sped away, dragging him a few feet before the officer was able to remove him from the vehicle.

Cobine said the suspect then circled the parking lot for several minutes, attempting to strike the officer. Four shots fired at the vehicle's rear tires failed to stop the auto. Conners and Scott were arrested later in St. Louis.

Bert Hampton, hired four months ago as the Housing Authority's director, feels housing authorities should do more than just run public housing projects. In his view, the authority board of commissioners has approved requesting funding for some of Hampton's proposals from the Madison County Community Development Office.

The authority has not had much involvement in programs outside its current federally-funded housing projects. Hampton said he thinks the authority needs to "step beyond those limitations."

The fund raiser was locally kicked off by the Madison Jr. Service Club's road block at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue, and in a few hours, these women collected $700.

This group of club women have been supportive of this program since its beginning in 1979. They have sponsored two Pancake and Sausage Breakfasts and a Hobbie auction with the proceeds going to this much needed service in the community.

Mark Goldenberg and Elmer Milton have volunteered their accounting firm, "Financial Planning Center's" expertise in handling the finance area. The cost of the printing of the material for the event is being covered by the American Heritage Bank.

The evening will be concluded with music for jazz by the Jimmy J. Danc Band.

Being a native of Granite City, Mrs. Lindner said she is aware of the unfortunate depressed economy our county is suffering. However, in the short span of time that Hospice of Madison County has been serving the people of the area, this has not been apparent. The goals that have been achieved and the success the program has realized is a direct result of the people of the community who so readily accepted the responsibility of assisting and supporting this program. And because of these people, we are able to guarantee continuous quality care that terminally ill patients and their families so rightfully deserve.

"Our nation has advanced drastically in the area of medical technology. However, efficient care is not enough to offer someone nearing the end of life's journey here on earth. Too much efficiency removes the time for love and compassion in the care of these acute patients. Hospice is a special place. It is a people's philosophy, that refers to a way of caring for people nearing the end of life, faced with dying, and in need of a refuge. It is a system of care that seeks to restore dignity and sense of personal fulfillment to the dying. The focus is on the patient and the family, rather than on the disease — and the aim is to extend life through heroic life support systems, but to improve the quality of the life that remains. With "Hospice Care" there is an immediate and tangible result — appropriate sensitivity and personal support instead of machines. It is of the utmost importance to educate the people of our community of the alternatives that Hospice care offers the patient, as well as the family," Mr. Lindner explained.

Our housing problems, too," he said. The authority would probably require that a certain percentage of the apartments be offered at a low rent, Hampton said. The authority would have the advantage of not being saddled with managing the new housing.

Hampton said the idea has many merits, but that it would be a "tackish" program to run. The $10,000 from community development would be enough to "get the program through the planning stage," he said. The housing authority sees another benefit to the proposed programs which would be operated without

MISS WILSON PARK of 1939, Catherine E. Cornelson, right, is celebrating the 44th anniversary since her crowning and her 50th wedding anniversary this month with G.S. Local woman signs musical contract

Mrs. Joyce Hand of Granite City has signed her sixth contract for musical recordings to be sent to England on a special recording session done by Dolie Frost, a new Nashville, Tenn., country western star.

"Take Me Back, Turn Me Loose" was accepted and included on Mrs. Frost's recording to be sent to England. All songs written by Mrs. Hand are in a collection in a Washington, D.C., studio entitled, "The Miracle of Dreams."

Mrs. Frost wrote a letter to the Granite City composer noting, "I would love to record one or two of your songs on my special recording session and will give special attention to all other songs submitted. This will be a great recording and will include violins, flutes, violas, cellos, oboe, harp, guitar, piano, drums and vibraphone."

The Nashville star also sent Mrs. Hand an autographed photograph and said she will also send an autographed album of her songs just recorded.

Although Mrs. Hand has not received any royalty checks for her music, she still hopes it will happen for her. "The recording studios say that my music has 'hit' potential and the words are what people like to feel today," Mrs. Hand explained.

She added, Mrs. Virginia Balwin of Chapel Recording wrote her a letter and said, "I must say that 'Take Me Back, Turn Me Loose' is written very well and applies to so many people in this world of ours."

"I still have a chance to win the $1,000 award at the end of the year for the best lyrics," Mrs. Hand noted. To date, Mrs. Frost has sung "A Tiny Teardrop," "Babe Hold Me" and "Take Me Back, Turn Me Loose," and all three have been sent to England for consideration.

Another song, "Wishes of Love" was accepted by Nashville Music Productions and they want to send it to five artists for selection. Mrs. Hand informed the newspaper.

Any artist interested in songs written by Mrs. Hand may call the studio collect and they will receive a copy of the song requested. If accepted, Mrs. Hand then will sign a contract for its use.

At the present time, Mrs. Hand has a country and western band using the name, "Country Rhythm and Blues," which plays in the area at various events. Members of the band are,

Income limits for school meals and women, infants

Increased income limits for free and reduced price school meals and for the special supplemental food program for women, infants and children (WIC) became effective July 1, an official of the U.S. Department of Agriculture said.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Mary C. Jarratt said the income limit for free school meals at all Quad-City schools will go from $12,090 to $12,870 annually for a family of four. The limit for reduced-priced meals will go from $17,210 to $18,315.

A family of four may receive up to $18,315 and still take part in the WIC program. Previously, the income limit was $17,210.

Congress requires the USDA to update the eligibility guidelines each July 1, reflecting changes in the consumer price index. The guidelines affect the national school lunch, school breakfast, special milk, and child care food program, all administered by USDA's Food and Nutrition Service at the federal level.

Maximum annual gross income limits for participation in the free meals and reduced price meals, respectively, are:

Household size of one, $6,318 and $8,991.
Two, $8,502 and $12,099.
Three, $10,686 and $15,297.
Four, $12,870 and $18,315.
Five, $15,054 and $21,423.
Six, $17,238 and $24,531.
Seven, $19,422 and $27,639.
Eight, $21,606 and $30,747.
For each additional family member, $2,184 or $3,108 is added.

Effective July 1, state and local agencies began applying the new income eligibility standards to all new applicants, as well as to all ongoing participants at their next certification.

The law provides that state agencies set income guidelines of not more than 185 percent, nor less than 100 percent, of the income poverty guidelines for each family size.

The purpose is to improve the health and nutritional status of low-income pregnant, breastfeeding and postpartum women, infants and children under age five by providing nutritious supplemental foods, nutrition education and access to health services.

Maximum gross income limits to participate in the WIC program are the same as in the reduced price meal listing, varying from $8,991 to $30,747 for families of one to eight.

DREW KARANDJEFF
President
GRANITE CITY TRUST

Q: We've heard about a new savings account designed to help parents save for a child's education. Can you shed any light on the status of this account?

A: At this writing, Congress has to pass legislation needed to implement education savings accounts, although the idea has gotten the go-ahead from the President. Therefore, we still aren't certain just what form they will take. They will, however, be aimed at assisting parents in putting aside money for higher education prior to the child's entrance into college. The proposal, made by President Reagan, would allow parents an investment of up to $1,000 per year per child for educational expenses. Although the money itself would not be tax deductible, the interest earned would be tax-free. There are also some limitations on contributions based on family income. Several alternative plans have been presented by several congressmen. The final bill will probably be a composite of the best features of all proposals.

Faces two indecent liberties charges

Bond was set at $5,000 for Lowell H. Kyle, 27, of 2223 Edison Ave., during a court appearance last week on two counts of taking indecent liberties with a child and failure to appear in court on a charge of driving with a suspended license.

A mittimus was issued and he was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

Kyle surrendered to police, who were seeking him on warrants, at 10:35 p.m. July 15, after he was found hiding in dirt in a crawl space at his home.

The indecent liberties charges stem from alleged incidents involving an 8-year-old girl, which occurred June 29 and June 30. Upon learning of the incidents, the child's mother took her daughter to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where information was given officers.

SERVE WARRANT ALLEGING ASSAULT

Responding to notification of a warrant for his arrest on a charge of aggravated assault, Jason W. Beck, 21, of 1507 Kirkpatrick Homes, came to police headquarters last week.

The charge related to an incident July 15, when Mike Householder, 1506 Kirkpatrick Homes, alleged he was standing in his yard when Beck threatened him and pointed a shotgun at him.

Beck was in his kitchen at the time of the incident. He was released from custody on a recognizance bond by a judge, who was in police headquarters in connection with another case.

BURGULAR RANSACKS

Several drawers and a desk were ransacked by a burglar who entered the Larry Hutchinson residence, 53 Lockhaven Drive, through a rear garage door, last week.

Immediately determined to be missing were two wedding bands, one with a diamond solitaire, and an AM-FM cassette radio and speakers. An inventory of property was being compiled.

Steel profits offset by Weirton write-off

National Steel Corp. has reported "significant improvement" in operating results by its major business groups in the second quarter. The firm bought Granite City Steel in 1971.

Profits from ongoing operations include: steel, $9.3 million; financial services, $7.5 million; aluminum, $4.1 million; and distribution, $2.1 million.

The energy and fabrication groups had a combined loss of $5.3 million. The profitable operating performance resulted in net income of $890,000 before an additional $100 million write-off related to the proposed sale of the Weirton Steel Division.

This produced a net loss in the second quarter of $99.2 million, or $5.26 per share of common stock, after recognition of a $1.4 million dividend on preferred stock. It compares to a loss of $48 million, or $2.57 per share, in the second quarter of 1982.

The non-recurring $100 million write-off includes losses anticipated for employee-related costs and the write-down of assets under the proposed agreement for sale of the Weirton, W. Va., plant to employees.

"The return to profitability by the Steel Group, its first operating profit since the third quarter of 1981, and profit improvements by other business groups are encouraging signs that our operations are coming into balance," said Howard M. Love, chairman and chief executive officer and a former Granite City Steel Division president.

"Even though prices remain depressed and operating rates have improved only slightly, we are continuing to benefit from efficiency improvements and cost reduction programs. If the economy continues its gradual rate of improvement and prices stabilize, National Steel should operate 'in the black' for the remainder of this year."

"To the best of our knowledge, additional write-offs for the sale of the Weirton Division should not be required," Love added.

The Steel Group earned an operating profit of $9.3 million for the second quarter of 1983, compared with an operating loss of $52 million in the second quarter last year.

This turnaround performance reflects a slightly improved overall economy and improvement in most "target markets" as growing consumer demand depletes customer inventories, Love said.

The group's performance in the second quarter reflects Weirton Steel operations only for the month of April.

As of May 1, shipments, sales and cost of sales from operation of the Weirton Steel Division have been treated as a separate entity and are to be assigned to the future profits and losses of the Weirton Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP), which is in the final process of completion.

Steel Group sales in the second quarter were $547 million versus sales of $652.5 million in the second quarter of 1982.

Shipments in the second quarter were 1,119,000 tons compared with 1,274,000 tons in 1982.

On a comparable basis, including Weirton's shipments only for April 1982, second-quarter shipments a year ago were 978,000 tons.

While steel prices have improved slightly in the second quarter, they remain well below normal levels.

The steel group continued to make gains in cost control and in raw materials operations.

After being idle for 11 months, start-up of the pellet plant at Keewatin, Minn., was smooth and the June performance of the plant was the best in its 15-year history, Love said.

The outlook for steel operations is for continued profitability.

In the Financial Services Group, National's net equity income from FN Financial Corp. amounted to $7.5 million versus $5 million in the second quarter of 1982.

For the first half of the year, National's interest in FN Financial yielded $13.7 million versus $10.7 million for the first half of 1982.

The 1983 results reflect National Steel's current 42 percent interest in FN. Improvements in the first half of 1983 were mainly due to continuing improvement in loan volume services interest, interest spread and sales by FN's home building operations.

Loan volume for the subsidiary in the second quarter rose 294 percent to $418 million, compared with $106 million for the same period last year.

Aluminum Group sales more than doubled over the second quarter of last year and operating profits increased to $4.1 million. This compares with a loss of $2 million in the second quarter of 1982.

Higher demand for National Aluminum's high-purity ingot, coupled with higher "spot" prices for aluminum ingot, have been the key contributors to the rapidly improving results, Love related.

The outlook for National Aluminum continues to be favorable. Producer inventories have declined for the fourth consecutive month. In addition, the cost to produce metal has dropped 8 percent in comparison to 1982 due to negotiated reductions in raw materials. The Havensville, Ky., smelter is now operating at its full, rated production capacity.

A second-quarter operating profit of $2.1 million was achieved by the Distribution Group, compared to a $100,000 profit in the second quarter of 1982. There was increasing strength in the consumer durable market, the automotive market and the housing market.

The Energy Group's $0.3 million loss in the second quarter and $0.7 million profit for the first half reflect continuing weakness in the overall coal market, resulting from lower consumption by utilities and metallurgical coke producers.

In the Fabrication Group, the "Excellent operating and profit performance" by the Bull Moose Tube Division continued to improve.

However, Bull Moose Tube's performance was more than offset again in the second quarter by continued losses in the Oil Country Tubular Goods and Pre-Engineered Building Division. This resulted in a second quarter operating loss of $4.4 million for the group.

Construction of Bull Moose Tube's new mechanical, structural and pressure tubing plant at Ironton, Ga., began in May and the project is on schedule and under budget. Start-up for the new facility is scheduled for the fourth quarter of 1983.

The Diversified Business Group's operating profit in the second quarter was $74,000, an improvement over the operating loss of $300,000 in the first quarter of 1982.

Several officers responded to a call of a man with a weapon at the apartment of Lisa Lutz in the 2500 block of Parkway Drive at 6:10 p.m. Monday and found William C. Mathes, 2730 Marshall Ave., there.

Mathes was taken into custody and charged with aggravated assault, unlawful use of a weapon, criminal trespass to property, disorderly conduct and for not having a Firearm Owner's Identification card.

File residential burglary charge

Stanley R. Hargrove, 19, of 2438 Ohio Ave., was charged with residential burglary in an informational document issued last week through the Madison County state's attorney's office.

A mittimus was issued following a court appearance and Hargrove was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 5:30 p.m. Monday.

The charge stemmed from an alleged burglary at the home of Hattie McCallum, 3106 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported July 15, in which $9 cash was taken from a purse and a set of keys also was missing.

Hargrove was arrested at 6 a.m. Friday, July 15, when a vehicle operated by a woman was halted by officers while leaving a parking area in the 3200 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, reports said.

The driver, Ivette Jenee Sutton, 25, of Belleville, was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol when two bottles of beer allegedly were found in the vehicle. She was released after posting her driver's license.

FLOOD MAP MEETING

A public meeting will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, July 26, in the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville, to explain and receive comments on a proposed floodway map for the Mississippi River. It was prepared to assist federal, state and local agencies in managing floodplain development. The map and regulations are on public display at the city engineer's office, 2500b Delmar Ave., Granite City.

At St. Elizabeth Medical Center, we approach life with awe and handle it with gentleness.

A recent Supreme Court ruling now permits abortions to be performed in out-patient clinics after the third month of a woman's pregnancy. Prior to this decision, many states required that second-trimester abortions be performed in hospitals. This ruling makes abortion more accessible to women and reinforces the high court's pro-abortion stand.

But it does not change our philosophy.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center is a Catholic institution, and as such, our philosophy is based on respect for human life from the moment of conception. That is why there never have been, nor will there ever be, abortions performed at our medical center.

The Supreme Court has made its position quite clear. We want to make our position just as clear -- at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, respect for life is our main concern.

GC organist to perform at Fox

Jack Jenkins, former minister of youth and music at Second Baptist Church in Granite City for nine years, has been selected to play the "Mighty Wurlitzer" organ at the Fox Theatre, St. Louis, Monday, Aug. 22, during a series of silent and classic films and concerts, which started July 8.

Jenkins, who resides at 2257 Cleveland Blvd., is one of six organists chosen by addition to perform during the "Monday Night at the Movies" summer series.

His performance from 7 until 7:30 p.m. Aug. 22, will precede the screening of the film classic, "Citizen Kane."

Jenkins graduated from Granite City High School and received a bachelor of science in music degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

He has played professionally in San Diego, Calif., for Organ Power, and was house organist at the Solana Theatre in Solana Beach, Calif.

The musician also has played for 490 weddings in Granite City.

In addition to his music, his principal hobby involves antiques and, in keeping with his leisure-time activity, he drives a classic-style 1933 Buick.

Presently, he is youth and music director at the First Baptist Church in Herrin, Ill.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jenkins, 3153 Fehling Road, the organist is a member of the St. Louis Chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

He also is active in the Granite City Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society and his home here was displayed on last year's DNRS home tour.

While at Second Baptist Church, Jenkins installed the present pipe organ.

The gigantic instrument he will play at the Fox Theatre is nearly four stories tall. It has 2,700 pipes and, at the touch, produces the sounds of more than 50 instruments.

The film series runs through Aug. 29 and will include appearances by Stan Kann, a former St. Louisan, and Lee Erwin, a silent film era organist who scores the films.

Films in the series include: the original "King Kong" July 25; "Gone With the Wind" July 30; "Adventures of Robin Hood" and "Captain Blood" Aug. 8; "Queen Kelly," an 1928 unreleased Gloria Swanson film Aug. 15; "Citizen Kane" Aug. 29, and "Goldiggers of 1933" and "Grand Hotel" Aug. 29.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling 1-314-534-1111.

Additional funding for block grants

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) Assistance Program, which recently awarded block grants to 59 small cities and towns throughout Illinois, will open a second round of grants with an additional $8 million provided by the federal Emergency Jobs Bill.

The bill, signed into law this spring, has already made appropriations to several state programs. DCCA will use $2 million of its Community Development Assistance Program allocation to supplement its "set-aside" program for towns faced with natural disaster or unique economic opportunities. The remaining $6 million will be used in a new competitive cycle to begin July 15, 1983. Applications must be submitted by Aug. 31.

In effect, this fresh source of funding will give several cities a second chance at vying for block grants. The competitive program initially, we could fund only 59 of the 211 towns that sought the federal dollars. We would encourage all towns not funded in July to resubmit their applications, and we invite eligible communities that did not enter the earlier cycle to take advantage of this new opportunity," said DCCA Acting Director Mike Woelffer.

The money can be used by local governments for such projects as downtown commercial revitalization, to assist a business in expanding and for physical improvements of a city.

The economic development agency is responsible for allocating the funds to communities with populations of less than 50,000 and in jurisdictions not still funded directly by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The $47 million is part of $114 million Illinois received this year for its overall energy assistance program. The other $67 million was divided among various state agencies for distribution. DCCA allocated the $47 million to local administering agencies which turned it over to needy families.

"Since the first of the year, more than 242,000 applications for home energy assistance were received by local administering agencies. More than 200,000 of those households' needs were met," Woelffer said.

The money remaining in DCCA's program will be used to meet obligations still lingering in and also be available as emergency

Cutoff Sunday for energy aid grants

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) will stop accepting applications July 31, 1983, for assistance through the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP) on paying home heating and cooling bills it was announced Friday.

"We are simply running out of funding," Mike Woelffer, acting director of DCCA said. "Ninety-five percent of the $47 million DCCA allocates to local administering agencies for distribution to needy households has been depleted and the remaining money is expected to be obligated by the end of this month."

Under IHEAP, money from the U.S. Dept. of Health and Human Services is used to help income-eligible households pay energy bills, weatherize homes and reconnect service lost to families who could not pay their bills. Eligibility requirements are based on the number of members in each family and their combined annual income.

Those individuals who have any questions about the program and its eligibility requirements may gain additional information by calling the DCCA toll-free hotline at 1-800-252-8642.

funds for those families who have lost energy service.

"While we will no longer be able to help some families pay their heating and cooling bills under the 1983 program, we want to insure that no families are without energy service," Woelffer said. "We believe that the demands for most needy families have been met and our 1984 allotment for the program is forthcoming."

"Why can't we eat as cheaply as we did when we were first married?"

When the size of your family increases, no one questions the fact that your grocery bill will also increase. And for most of our residential customers, that's exactly what's happened. They're using more electricity now than they ever did in the past.

So, it stands to reason, that when you add electrical appliances to your home, your Illinois Power bill will also go up.

But consider this: From 1940 to 1970, while the cost of living was rising, Illinois Power Company's electric rates were actually reduced on eleven occasions.

Since 1970, inflation and the necessary cost of constructing new facilities have forced our electric rates back up. But they are still only slightly higher than they were more than 40 years ago.

Compared to other things you buy, electricity from Illinois Power is still one of your biggest household bargains.

Pro-life policy here is unchanged

Despite the U.S. Supreme Court ruling this year broadening women's abortion rights, the position of St. Elizabeth Medical Center remains unchanged, a spokesman said today.

"Our philosophy is based on respect for human life from the moment of conception. That is why there never have been, nor will there ever be, abortions performed at our medical center," the spokesman related.

Although SEMC is dedicated to pro-life philosophy, a Chicago area pro-life group says it may picket here Friday, carrying empty caskets in a procession near the medical center. The group opposes the presence of SEMC medical staff of Dr. Victor Zevallos, who owns the Hope Clinic in Granite City. The doctor and his wife were abducted from their home for eight days last August by three men who claimed to be the anti-abortion "Army of God." The three are now in prison.

Although disagreeing with Dr. Zevallos' philosophy on abortions, SEMC finds no fault with his medical skill and also would have no legal basis to oust him from the staff, the spokesman said.

The medical center commented that the "recent Supreme Court ruling now permits abortions to be performed in outpatient clinics after the third month of a woman's pregnancy."

"Prior to this decision, many states required that second-trimester (fourth, fifth and sixth month) abortions be performed in hospitals."

"This ruling makes abortions more accessible to women, and reinforces the high court's pro-abortion stand. But it does not change our philosophy."

"SEMC is a Catholic institution and, as such, our philosophy is based on respect for human life from the moment of conception."

"There never have been, nor will there ever be, abortions performed at SEMC."

"At St. Elizabeth, respect for life is our main concern."

Bank charge card activity sets record

Bank charge card volume in the five-state Midwest trade area, which includes metropolitan St. Louis, set an all-time record in the first six months of 1983, generating $1,211,332,000 in business. It was the first time that the area's volume exceeded $1 billion for January to June.

The record combined Mastercard and Visa volume was 24 percent higher than the first six months of 1982, according to Credit Systems Incorporated in St. Louis. CSI is the operating center for Mastercard and Visa in Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois and western Kentucky.

Individual cardholder transactions also increased substantially to $3,614,000 during the six-month period, up 18 percent over the first half of 1982.

The average transaction increased to $40 from $38. There are more than 67,000 merchant outlets in the five-state trade area, and more than 2.5 million cardholders.

TEENAGERS RUN FROM OFFICERS

Seeing two teenagers walking on the 19th Street overpass in the early morning hours last week, a patrol officer said the pair ran into Action Auto Sales, 1150 Niedringhaus Ave., when approached.

A 16-year-old boy, who was reported as a runaway on July 5, was caught and a girl, 15, was found hiding between a truck and a building.

Both were charged with curfew violation (state) and released to their mothers to appear for a hearing.

Band students return from European tour

Denise Bard and David Oyen, bassoon players in the Granite City High School Band, toured Germany and Austria with the St. Louis Symphony Youth Orchestra, this month.

The musical group toured and played concerts in Stuttgart, Munich and Karlsruhe in Germany, and in Salzburg, Vienna and Badgastein in Austria.

In addition to the tour, the orchestra competed in the International Youth and Music Festival. They were in com-

Motorcycle safety training is praised

Motorcycle fatalities in Illinois have decreased significantly since 1973, and Illinois officials are attributing much of the decline in deaths to a free motorcycle safety training program that began in 1977.

Fat Rzewnicki, public safety counselor for the police department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, said Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) statistics indicate that more than 285,000 motorcycles were registered in Illinois last year, and there were 194 deaths, compared to 178,000 motorcycles in 1973 and 197 deaths.

The motorcycle training program, begun in 1977, was originated to promote the voluntary use of motorcycle helmets after Illinois' mandatory helmet law was declared unconstitutional by the Illinois Supreme Court. Originally supported by state funds, the program is funded now by the Illinois Cycle Rider Safety Training Act, which became law in January, 1982, and provides that $4 of each motorcycle registration fee be used for rider safety training.

Mr. Rzewnicki said more than 435 persons have attended the free program since it has been conducted at SIUE beginning in 1981. Four SIUE police officers, two Madison County deputy sheriffs and an East Alton police officer, all of whom are IDOT-certified motorcycle safety instructors, teach the program at SIUE on an alternating basis. IDOT has 40 instructors throughout the southern Illinois region.

The 20-hour class includes 10 hours of classroom study and 10 hours of hands-on driving instruction. Motorcycles, helmets and eye protection are provided for use during training, at no cost to the student.

Each participant who successfully completes the course receives a certificate from the Motorcycle Safety Foundation, which is recognized by many insurance companies for premium discount prices.

The course is open to any Illinois resident 16 years of age or older who has a valid driver's license or permit. Persons under 18 years of age must obtain the approval of parents or guardians.

Classes at SIUE now are being formulated for July, August and September. To register, interested persons may contact the SIUE Office of Conferences and Institutes at 1-662-2660.

Donald Mayford, the son of Ralph and Gwen Mayford, 2424 Glen Place, Granite City, enlisted in the Navy as a member of the Navy Cardinal Company on Thursday. This is the 50th year of the baseball Cardinals' Navy namesakes.

Mayford was one of 80 recruits sworn in prior to the game between St. Louis and San Diego at Busch Stadium. He said, "I joined the Navy for educational purposes." After the game, the new recruits headed for the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., to begin their Navy careers.

Reopening westbound Vandeventer lanes

The opening of the westbound lanes of the new Vandeventer Overpass project was let in 1979. Highway 40 traffic has been detoured for the past two years while the new 5,400-foot viaduct was constructed and two approaches were built. Earlier, a railroad spur was relocated.

At the same time the viaduct is opened, traffic will be allowed for the first time on a newly-built westbound lane from the viaduct to Skinker.

Three lanes will be open from Compton to Chouteau and four lanes from Chouteau to Skinker.

Major contractors on the work, which cost $19.8 million, are the Klorer Co., McCarthy Brothers Construction Co. and St. Louis Bridge Co. of Fenton. About next summer, another Frank Kriz district highway engineer.

007 just keeps rollin' along

By JACK MARTIN

HOLLYWOOD — The indestructible Bond movie machine rolls on and on. Even before the latest 007 blockbuster "Octopussy" has had time to get its box-office feet wet, the next one is already on the drawing boards.

To be titled "From View to Kill," it is based on an Ian Fleming short story about a spy in Paris. Shooting starts early next year. And who'll be Bond in this, the 14th in the successful series that began more than 20 years ago?

Executive Producer Michael Wilson tells me, "There's no reason why Roger Moore shouldn't carry on. If you calculate Bond's age from the early novels he would now be about 51, and that's just a couple of years younger than Roger."

Well, three years to be exact. And our hero himself seems happy to go on being licensed to kill till the cows come home — provided, of course, that he gets a hefty raise in pay which he will.

Surrounded by "Octopussy" girls at a Tinseltown reception the other day, Moore said, "I'm certainly not too old to go on playing the part. As far as I'm concerned, when I'm 90 I'll still be acting even if I have to be pushed on the set in a wheelchair."

But what about the rigorous stunts?

"You know I do them myself," he grinned. "And I also do my own lying."

DIRECT ROUTE: Nashville's city fathers have made certain that tourists won't get lost on their way to Ryman Auditorium, that bastion of country music. You take Dolly Parton Highway, veer off on Johnny Cash Parkway, make a left on Barbara Mandrell Boulevard and go to Roy Acuff Place. You can't miss it.

LOVE STORY II: The Hollywood marriage-goround took another unusual turn this past week when Ali McGraw, widow of Steve McQueen, decided to return to the arms of her second husband, film producer Robert "The Godfather" Evans.

Evans, who "discovered" Ali and starred her in "Love Story" opposite Ryan (yawn, double yawn) O'Neal, has been going through a rough patch — and has even decided to sell his Beverly Hills home, bought for $300,000 15 years ago and on the market now for $5 million.

The other night Bob took Ali and their 12-year-old son Joshua to Spago, the new "innest" place for movie moguls in Los Angeles. The papers reported they "held hands and kissed like teenagers."

I doubt that. But they do seem to be genuinely fond of one another. So who knows?

CASTING NOTE: Margot Kidder, sorely missed as Lois Lane in "Superman III," is down in Bayou country filming the mini-series "Louisiana," a tale of the Old South. The popular actress has just completed her role of Liza Doolittle (opposite Peter O'Toole's Professor Higgins) in the Showtime-TV production of George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion."

CASTING NOTE II: Has Albert Finney cornered the market in playing eminent Poles? Having just completed portraying Pope John Paul II, the eminent British leading man will next appear for Metro-media-TV as the Polish union leader Lech Walesa. And right after that (and as announced in this space a couple of weeks back) Finney will sashay off to Mexico for his co-starring sting opposite Jackie Bisset and Anthony Andrews in the movie version of Malcolm Lowrey's classic novel, "Under the Volcano," to be directed by John Huston.

BOOK NOTES: Kitty Kelley (best-selling writer of those best-selling biogs on Elizabeth Taylor and Jackie Onassis) is in Tinseltown working on her bio of Frank Sinatra — concentrating on Ol' Blue Eyes' married life (lives), his financial wheelings and dealings, and his sex life.

And if you don't read an other book these hot summer nights, be sure you pick up (cause you sure won't put it down) Shirley MacLaine's absolutely captivating "Out on a Limb." The book is out of this world. In more ways than one.
